

Profitable Small-Scale Farming: Essential Tools and Techniques

Jean-Martin Fortier

Organic Farmer, Author and Speaker

Learn to maximize profits on small farming plots from one of Canada's most recognized and influential organic growers, Jean-Martin Fortier. During this one-day training, Fortier blends experience and know-how to provide in-depth instruction on optimizing cropping systems for intensive methods of production.

Fortier's book, "The Market Gardener: A Successful Grower's Handbook for Small-Scale Organic Growing," breakfast from Crêpe Bar and lunch from Pane Bianco are included in the $84.00 enrollment fee. A limited number of scholarships offer reduced fees to those with limited income. Please contact Kelly Young, University of Arizona Cooperative Extension, at kyoung@cals.arizona.edu for more information.

This event is made possible by ASU's Food Systems Transformation Initiative in collaboration with University of Arizona Cooperative Extension, Steadfast Farm, National Young Farmer's Coalition, Pane Bianco and Crêpe Bar.

Friday, October 30, 2015
9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

ASU SkySong
1475 N Scottsdale Rd
Scottsdale, AZ 85257

For questions, please email
layla@asu.edu

For more information about this and other events, visit:
sustainability.asu.edu/events

RSVP: sustainability.asu.edu/events