

Urban Gardens Talk & Tour Finale

Justin Rohner

*CEO and Founder
Agriscaping Technologies*

To wrap up our Urban Garden Talk & Tour series, join visionary farmers Justin Rohner, Darren Chapman, and Ken Singh as they share their varying perspectives on urban yards, gardens, and farms.

Justin Rohner has always been a bit of an innovator, an artist, and an entrepreneur. He was recently named one of Arizona's Top Entrepreneurs under 35 by the Arizona Republic for his work improving local food access and sustainability through agriscaping.com.

Darren Chapman

*CEO and Founder
TigerMountain Foundation*

Through all the ups and downs in Darren Chapman's life, the toughest choice he had to make was to stay true to proactive, hands-on change. As a result of this choice, he has founded the TigerMountain Foundation, an organization that uses asset-based community development to bring sustainability back to the community.

Ken Singh

*Owner and Operator
Singh Farms*

Ken Singh is an intriguing person, as well as master gardener, who has three or four businesses all in one farm. He devotes himself full time to his enterprises and his healthy-living philosophy.

Light refreshments will be served.

December 3, 2015
4:00 p.m. - 5:30 p.m.

Nush
560 S College Ave
Tempe, Arizona 85281

Parking and directions:
sustainability.asu.edu/directions

For more information about this and other events, visit:
sustainability.asu.edu/events

Seating is limited, so please RSVP for this event.

RSVP: sustainability.asu.edu/events