

Stop Making Buildings

Aaron Betsky

Dean, Frank Lloyd Wright School of Architecture

A critic of art, architecture, and design, Aaron Betsky is the author of over a dozen books on those subjects and writes a blog, "Beyond Buildings" for architectmagazine.com. Trained as an architect and in the humanities at Yale, Betsky was previously the Director of the Cincinnati Art Museum (2006-2014) and the Netherlands Architecture Institute (2001-2006), as well as Curator of Architecture and Design at the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art (1995-2001).

In this talk, Betsky will survey current buildings to argue that the best and most resilient architecture today goes beyond building to create a more sustainable, open, and beautiful human-made world.
