

Case Critical: Postcards from Paris

The Julie Ann Wrigley Global Institute of Sustainability's Case Critical series responds to time-sensitive sustainability concerns at the local, national, and global level. Experts swiftly mobilize for solution-based discussions focusing on the environmental, social, and economic implications of high-stakes threats and breaking news issues.

Manjana Milkoreit

Senior Sustainability Fellow; Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Jeffrey Swofford

PhD Student, School of Sustainability

Daniel Bodansky

Foundation Professor of Law, Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law; Faculty Co-Director, Center for Law and Global Affairs

Sonja Klinsky

Senior Sustainability Scientist and Assistant Professor at the School of Sustainability

In December 2015, governments of the world met in Paris and adopted an arguably game-changing international agreement on climate change. In this Case-Critical discussion, four ASU experts who attended the historic climate negotiations discuss what happened at COP21, what they were doing while they were there, what they consider to be the innovations of the Paris agreement, and what the agreement implies for the US and the world. What might ASU staff, students and faculty contribute as all parties move forward?

Parisian Pastries will be served.

Co-sponsored by the Center for Law and Global Affairs, Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law.

Wednesday, January 20, 2016
1:30 p.m - 3:30 p.m

Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law (Room 105)
Arizona State University, Tempe Campus

Parking and directions:
sustainability.asu.edu/directions

For more information about this and other events, visit:
sustainability.asu.edu/events

Seating is limited, so please RSVP for this event.

RSVP: sustainability.asu.edu/events

Case Critical is presented by ASU's Julie Ann Wrigley Global Institute of Sustainability.