

Sustainable in Stiletto: A Conscious Conversation in Sustainable Living

Tracey Martin

Sustainability Strategist; Transformational Coach; Author

Tracey Martin empowers others to demand healthy approaches to food, fashion, and beauty. She also works with industry leaders on incorporating non-toxic manufacturing alternatives into their day-to-day practices. Her environmentally friendly accessory line, Threads of Evolution works with local artisans using plant-based dyes and a cruelty-free manufacturing process.

Martin will discuss her new book, Sustainable in Stiletto, which explores the truth behind the current fashion industry and how doing business in a more sustainable manner would benefit everyone. She asks readers to “step into sustainability” and begin a conscious conversation among consumers about sustainability being our collective responsibility: from climate-change conversations to what we eat, wear, drive, and how we live.

Book signing to follow.

Tuesday, November 28, 2017
7:00 - 8:30 p.m.

Changing Hands Bookstore - Phoenix
300 W Camelback Rd.
Phoenix, AZ 85013

Parking and directions:
sustainability.asu.edu/directions

For more information about this and other events, visit:
sustainability.asu.edu/events

Seating is limited, so please RSVP for this event.

RSVP: sustainability.asu.edu/events