

In partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of

Master of Art
Andrew Hudson

Will defend his thesis

Our Shared Storm:
Exploring Five Cli-fi Scenarios of Climate Politics Futures

Tuesday, April 7, 2020
9:30am

Faculty, students, and the general public are invited.

Supervisory Committee:
Paul Hirt, Chair
Sonja Klinsky, Member
Matt Bell, Member
Ronald Broglio, member

Abstract

This project uses the tools of speculative climate fiction to explore and imagine the future of the UN climate negotiations in each of the five Shared Socioeconomic Pathway (SSP) scenarios. Climate fiction proves a powerful but imperfect tool for envisioning future challenging and turning scientific models into meaningful narratives.