

Actors and Navigations in Sustainable Transitions

Ulrik Jorgensen

Professor, Department of Development and Planning at Aalborg University

Resource scarcity, climate change, and social inequalities present challenges to innovation and to the designs of new solutions. In this talk, Jorgensen will discuss the experience of cities and local communities as they grapple with sustainability transitions in the areas of energy and mobility.

Jorgensen directs of Aalborg University's Centre of Design, Innovation and Sustainable Transitions. He holds a M.S. in Engineering and a Ph.D. in Innovation Economics from the Technical University of Denmark.
