

ICSS 2012: Studying and Researching in International Sustainability Programs

During the Third International Conference on Sustainability Science (ICSS 2012), the School of Sustainability will host an information session on opportunities to study and research at international sustainability programs around the world. This session will consist of brief talks by representatives from each of the following programs:

Makoto Yokohari, Graduate Program in Sustainability Science,
The University of Tokyo, Japan

Jordi Segalàs, Research Institute of Sustainability,
Universitat Politècnica de Catalunya (UPC), Barcelona, Spain

Barry Ness, Centre for Sustainability Studies, Lund University, Sweden

Daniel Lang, Faculty Sustainability Science,
Leuphana University of Lüneburg, Germany

Alan Brent, Sustainability Institute, Stellenbosch University, South Africa

Arnim Wiek, School of Sustainability, Arizona State University

ASU undergraduate and graduate students as well as faculty are invited to join conference participants for this session. After the talks, attendees of the session will have time to pick up literature, connect individually with the program representatives, and ask any questions they might have. If you have any questions, please email john.harlow@asu.edu.

Wednesday, February 22, 2012
9:00 – 10:30 a.m.

Wrigley Hall 101
ASU Tempe Campus

RSVP link: Download any free QR-Code reader app to your smart phone. Scan this code and it will take you directly to the RSVP page.

RSVP: sustainabilityevents@asu.edu

Parking and directions: sustainability.asu.edu/directions

For more information about this and other events, visit sustainability.asu.edu/events

The Sustainability Series is presented by ASU's Global Institute of Sustainability.