

The Sustainability Review

Seeds for Conversation: Land-Use Change in Art and Sustainability

B.L. Turner II

*Distinguished Sustainability Scientist,
Global Institute of Sustainability*

Matthew Moore

Farmer and Artist

Join The Sustainability Review editorial staff for a discussion-style presentation featuring Matthew Moore, a Valley artist focused on land-use change and development, and Dr. B.L. Turner II, a Distinguished Sustainability Scientist with the Global Institute of Sustainability.

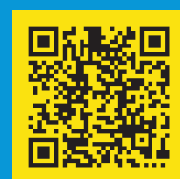

Presenters will share their perspectives and current thinking about land development before engaging each other with probing questions related to sustainability, land-use change, and urbanization. The discussion will then be opened up to questions and comments from the audience. The panel will be immediately followed by a reception at Robbie Fox's on Mill Avenue.

This event is a unique collaboration between students in ASU's School of Sustainability and the School of Arts, Media + Engineering.

Tuesday, April 17, 2012

3:00 – 4:30 p.m.

Brickyard Orchid House, Room 175
21 East 6th Street, Suite 126B, Tempe

RSVP link: Download any free QR-Code reader app to your smart phone. Scan this code and it will take you directly to the RSVP page.

RSVP: editor@thesustainabilityreview.org