

Consulting on Sustainability

Seth Baruch

*Specialist Master, Strategy and Operations
Deloitte Consulting*

Want to learn more about being a sustainability consultant for a large company? Then please join us for a talk with Seth Baruch from Deloitte Consulting, who will provide an overview of the company's sustainability market offering. Explore how sustainability works across different business units and get up-to-date on pressing issues in the marketplace. Baruch will give an overview of a carbon management project that he delivered on behalf of a client.

Baruch is a specialist master for the Strategy and Operations division of Deloitte Consulting. He is an internationally recognized expert in greenhouse gas monitoring methodologies. Baruch's past projects have spanned the renewable energy, power generation, energy efficiency, and oil and gas sectors. He is responsible for implementing projects that reduce millions of tons of carbon dioxide emissions every year.

Wednesday, September 19, 2012

4:30 – 6:00 p.m.

(refreshments will be served)

Wrigley Hall, Room 481

RSVP link: Download any free QR-Code reader app to your smart phone. Scan this code and it will take you directly to the RSVP page.

RSVP: sustainabilityevents@asu.edu

Parking and directions: sustainability.asu.edu/directions

Information on all events: schoolofsustainability.asu.edu/events

The Sustainability After School Series is presented by ASU's School of Sustainability.