

A WRIGLEY SERIES & BARRETT HONORS COLLEGE LECTURE

THE WORLD WITHOUT US

Presented by the Wrigley Lecture Series on Sustainability, Co-Hosted by Barrett Honors College and Integrative Graduate Education and Research Training (IGERT) in Urban Ecology

What might happen to the Earth if humans vanished? How would the rest of nature respond if it were suddenly relieved of the relentless pressures we heap on it? How soon would, or could, the climate return to where it was before we fired up all our engines? Could nature ever obliterate all our traces? The World Without Us, Alan Weisman's phenomenal New York Times bestseller, shows us humanity's true impact on the environment in a wholly original way, and challenges each of us to re-imagine our planet - and our place within it.

Alan Weisman

Author, The World Without Us

Wednesday, October 29, 2008 | 7:00 PM

Book Signing following Lecture

Murdock Hall 101

Arizona State University, Tempe campus

Visitor Parking in Fulton Center Parking Structure ($3/hr)

