

Carbon Taxation: The Way Forward

Thomas Sterner

*Visiting Chief Economist, Environmental Defense Fund
Professor of Environmental Economics, University of Gothenburg, Sweden*

Thomas Sterner is a world-renowned environmental economist, who has published over a dozen books and 80 articles on environmental-policy instruments with applications to energy and climate, industry, transport economics, and resource management in developing countries. He is a recipient of the Myrdal Prize and a past president for the European Association of Environmental and Resource Economists.

In this talk, Sterner discusses the benefits and feasibility of environmental fiscal reform and carbon taxation, using examples from Sweden, France, and the US.

This event is co-sponsored with the Center for Environmental Economics and Sustainability Policy, W.P. Carey School of Business

Friday, October 11
12:00 - 1:30 p.m.

Ventana Room, ASU's Memorial Union
Arizona State University, Tempe campus
lunch will be provided

RSVP link: Download any free QR-Code reader app to your smart phone. Scan this code and it will take you directly to the RSVP page.

RSVP: sustainabilityevents@asu.edu

Parking is available at the Apache parking structure. For Parking and directions: sustainability.asu.edu/directions
For more information about this and other events, visit sustainability.asu.edu/events

The Sustainability Series is presented by ASU's Global Institute of Sustainability.